

Newsletter: Christmas 2023/Summer 2024

Welcome to our end-of-year wrap-up!

It is hard to believe that 2023 is almost over. What a year it has been!

This year, our ensemble devised and performed two original theatre productions (at five different locations), was invited to perform at the National Disability Conference Queensland Forum, nominated by the public for the 2023 Anywhere Festival's Comedy Award, toured regional schools, was invited to participate in national film and TV opportunities and three of our ensemble members under mentorship made their public debut as emerging creative leaders in our production of Bridges and the establishment of our first regional outreach centre in South Burnett.

Blue Roo's growth couldn't have been possible without the support of Arts Queensland and the commitments of the Friends of Blue Roo. Thank you!

2024 is shaping up to be another fantastic year of new opportunities for creatives with disability to access and lead in the Queensland performing arts. Bring it on!

“Bridges” – Wrap up

And that's a wrap!

Bridges was an original high melodrama devised and performed by the Blue Roo Theatre Company's ensemble.

We have received fantastic feedback from our BRIDGES show.

What an incredible journey our actors and crew have been on this year!

And we are beyond proud of our very own Oriel and James, who have taken on the roles of Co-Director and Creative Assistant for this play.

These two have done a fantastic job!

Thank you to our audiences, and congratulations to our hard-working cast and crew!

Meet Brigid

Introducing Brigid – Brigid joined the Blue Roo this year and has become an integral part of the Blue Roo team. Brigid, an experienced actor, is fun, hard-working and eager to try new creative opportunities. During the year, Brigid has shown us her emerging photography and public relations skills. We managed to ask her a few questions between rehearsals.

- 1. Favourite colours: Red, green, purple and blue.
- 2. Favourite movie: I like funny movies and ones that leave you with a message. I don't like scary movies.
- 3. What do you like doing? I like to exercise and lift weights at the gym
- 4. Who did you play in 'Chased by Rainbows'? I played the part of Rose – the leprechaun's sister.
- 5. Who did you play in the last production 'Bridges'? I played Bess, a wise warrior from the Middle Ages.

Welcome aboard Brigid! You're amazing.

Christmas Party Fun

On 23 November, we celebrated International Day of People with Disability a little early with our Blue Roo Christmas party!!!

So much laughter, love, food, music and presents. Everyone received a personalised award for their incredible achievements this year.

A special shout-out goes to Cherie Watson, who received the 2023 Annual Performing Arts Award.

Become a Friend of Blue Roo in 2024

FRIENDS OF BLUE ROO

‘All people with disability need to excel is the opportunity.’

Approximately 20% of Australians experience some form of disability. Disabilities can come in many forms. Many people with disability experience significant barriers to inclusion in our communities and workplaces.

The Friends of Blue Roo advocate for and financially support people with disability to be publicly seen and heard, challenging common community perceptions of ability and reducing the harmful effects of social isolation.

Your advocacy will collectively champion the idea that every individual, regardless of ability, has a vital role in shaping our cultural and economic communities.

Your financial support will directly help production costs, provide access and participation opportunities in the performing arts, create and sustain mentored performing arts leadership pathways and support employment opportunities for emerging actors, producers, directors, stage managers, sound technicians and vodcasters with disability.

Join us to empower people with disability to access and shine on stage and in public spaces, boost their creative leadership skills and advance their health, wellbeing and confidence.

Every little bit helps. Donations come in various forms, reflecting the diverse ways people contribute based on their preferences, financial capacity, and personal connection to a cause.

Type	Definition	Method	Benefits
One -Time Donation (D)	Single, non-recurring contribution	Direct debit Reference: Name and the letter D	Supports program sustainability. Two complimentary VIP tickets for a production of your choice with donations over $30.
Recurring Donation (RD)	Regular, ongoing contributions made monthly	Recurring bank debit set up by the donor Reference: Name and the letters RD	Provides a steady and predictable source of income, allowing for long-term planning. Two complimentary VIP tickets per production season in June and November for total donations over $60.
Matching Gifts (MD)	Single or recurring donations made by individuals that their employer or another third-party match.	Direct debit or recurring bank payment set up by an employer or a third party that matches an individual's single or recurring donation. Reference: Name and the letters MD	Doubles the impact of individual contributions. For individuals, two VIP complimentary tickets per production, in June and November for donations over $60. For employers or third parties, four complimentary VIP tickets per production in June and November and prominent acknowledgement across marketing platforms and in performance programs for donations over $120.
In-kind Donation or Volunteering	Contributions of goods, services, expertise or time instead of monetary funds.	By discussion or via email.	Provides specific resources needed without direct financial expenditure. Builds your disability awareness and enhances future promotion or employment applications. Prominent acknowledgement across marketing platforms and in performance programs

We would appreciate your support in 2024.

Disability Action Week – Mazars

During Disability Action Week 2023, some of our actors (Brigid, Ben, Oriel and James) were invited to film with Mazars to help their employees understand how best to help people with disability in their work.

Mazars is an international organisation specialising in accounting and legal services in nearly 100 countries and territories.

Disability Action Week ran from 25 November to 2 December 2023 and celebrates Queenslanders with disability and the contributions they make to our families, communities, workplaces and economy.

This year's theme – 'Access ignites: it's good business' – focuses on increasing employment and economic participation of people with disability.

Blue Roo Mentorship Program in Full Flight! 🚀

‘All people with disability need to excel is the opportunity.’

Special thanks and gratitude to the Friends of Blue Roo, who collectively provide opportunities to empower performing artists and arts workers with disability. With your support, everything is possible!

Huge congratulations!!

Cherie (Assistant Producer) in her mentored leadership role to create the Blue Roo South Burnett Regional Outreach Program.

On their public debuts in mentored leadership roles for the successful Bridges production, Oriel (Co-Director) and James (Creative Assistant).

Huge Thanks!!

To our mentors Laraine, Brett, Vivien and Dale in supporting and empowering our new emerging performing arts leaders with disability to fly high in their new leadership pathways.

What's on this Summer?

The Blue Roo Theatre Company will be closed for Xmas break from 22 December, 2023 until 8 January 2024.

Stay tuned for web, Facebook and email updates on the 2024 program. There are lots of fun activities in store for participants old and new.
